

Appendix A- Profile of PRIDE team, Scientific Advisory Group and Organogram

Senior Management Team

- Vikram Patel is a psychiatrist; he is the PI of PRIDE and takes overall responsibility for all aspects of the project.
- Monika Arora is a PhD in Public Health; she is the Project Advisor on all aspects of project and is responsible for aligning the project goals with program and policies of the Government of India and Government of NCT of Delhi.
- Prachi Khandeparkar is a clinical psychologist; she is the Project Advisor and is responsible for aligning the project goals with policies and programs of the Government of Goa.
- Arpita Anand is a clinical psychologist with nearly 20 years of experience as a clinician; she is the Intervention Director and takes over all responsibility for the development and implementation of intervention in PRIDE
- Daniel Michelson is a clinical psychologist; he is the Intervention Co-director and a lecturer in Global Mental Health at LSHTM and is responsible for the development of both clinical and scientific elements of the project.
- Vikas Choudhry is a medical doctor with a PhD in Public Health; he is the Project Director and takes overall responsibility for managing all the aspects of the project.

Public Engagement (PE)

- Pattie Gonsalves has been working with arts in health research and action projects with children and youth in India; she is the project coordinator and is responsible for overall leadership of the PE component of the project.

Intervention team

- Akankasha Joshi is a clinical psychologist; she is a Intervention Coordinator and is responsible for providing clinical services in Goa, training and supervision of counselors and assisting with development of intervention in PRIDE.
- Kanika Malik is a clinical psychologist with a PhD in clinical psychology; she is an Intervention Coordinator and is responsible for providing clinical services in Delhi, training and supervision of counselors and Intervention Facilitators, assisting clinical research activities and development of intervention in PRIDE.
- Madhuri Krishna is a psychologist; she is an Intervention Coordinator and is responsible for providing clinical services in Delhi, training and supervision of counselors and Intervention Facilitators, and assisting with development of intervention in PRIDE.
- Rhea Sharma is a clinical psychologist with training in Global Mental Health; she is an Intervention Coordinator and is responsible for providing clinical services in Delhi, training and supervision of counselors and Intervention Facilitators, and assisting with development of intervention in PRIDE.
- Mona Sharma is a psychotherapist with training in public mental health; she is a consultant with PRIDE and responsible for providing clinical services in Delhi, training and supervision of counselors and Intervention Facilitators, and assisting with development of intervention in PRIDE.
- Medha Upadhye, Bindiya Chodankar, Mamta Verma are trained counsellors; they are recruited as Intervention Facilitators and are responsible for providing counseling services in Goa.

Research team

- Swapnil Gadhave is a Public Health researcher; he is the Research Director (Goa) and is responsible for the overall research component of the project.

- Mahima Sapru is a Public Health researcher; she is a Research Associate and is responsible for managing the formative and clinical research for the project.
- Richa Sharma is a public health researcher; she is a Senior Research Assistant and is responsible for planning and executing the research activities for the project
- Rachana Parikh is a medical doctor with training in Public Health; she is a consultant with PRIDE and is responsible for managing the formative and clinical research for STEP 1. Her PhD project on development of STEP 1 will be nested in PRIDE.

Administration

- Priyanka Sharma is the senior administrative executive and is responsible for managing the over-all administrative, fiscal and operational policies in PRIDE.
- Archana Patil is the administrative coordinator and is responsible for planning and executing the administrative, budgetary and operational policies in Goa.
- Prachi Sharma is the Administrative Executive and is responsible for planning and executing the administrative, budgetary and operational policies in Delhi.

Scientific Advisory Group

1. Christopher Fairburn
2. Bruce Chorpita
3. Eric Daleiden
4. Alan Kazdin
5. Theresa Betancourt
6. Mark Jordans
7. Pim Cuijpers
8. Helen Weiss
9. Terry Wilson
10. Laura Murray
11. Michael King
12. Steve Hollon
13. Amit Sen
14. Shelja Sen
15. Gauri Divan
16. Paulomi Sudhir
17. Manjula M
18. Achal Bhagat

